

NEW PCR Being Developed      Shelf-stable prepared soups and stews    3 March 2010

IERE is beginning the process of developing a product category rule for shelf stable prepared soups or stews (UNSPSC code 50191507). The process will be developed entirely by teleconference and is anticipated to take no more than two months, beginning to end.

Interested parties are expected to read applicable documents, comment and participate in three conference calls, and if you are not familiar with LCAs and EPDs, to come up to speed by first watching the webinars on those topics at the EPA website:
