

IERE is beginning the process of developing a product category rule for pavement rejuvenation products. The process will be developed entirely by teleconference and is anticipated to take no more than two months, beginning to end.

There is currently no UNSPSC code for pavement rejuvenation products, but such products could be used for the following service product categories:

UNSPSC code	Product Category
72103301	Parking lot or road maintenance or repairs or services
72141003	Highway and road maintenance service
72141104	Highway and road resurfacing service
N/A	Airport Runway maintenance or repair services

Interested parties are expected to read applicable documents, comment and participate in three conference calls, and if you are not familiar with LCAs and EPDs, to come up to speed by first watching the webinars on those topics at the EPA website:
